

Geriatric Emergency Nursing Education

Made for nurses, by nurses

With the elderly patient population on the rise, it is more important than ever for nurses to be prepared to treat older adults in emergency situations. ENA offers a portfolio of education that prepares nurses with the best practices emergency nurses need to treat geriatric patients. Whether you are looking for an extensive emergency nursing geriatric education course or just an introduction, we've got you covered!

Check out ENA's new GENE Level II course that reinforces core geriatric educational objectives with more advanced content.

GENE LEVEL I

NEW GENE LEVEL II

This course provides foundational geriatric knowledge, skills, and a systematic process needed to effectively guide geriatric patient care and improve outcomes.

MODULE TOPICS:

- Delirium and Sepsis
- Hip Fracture
- Scalp Laceration
- Weakness and Non-specific Complaints
- Heart Failure and End-of Life Care

FEATURES:

- Online course
- 2 CNE contact hours

GENE is a comprehensive course developed to help improve emergency department outcomes for older adults.

MODULE TOPICS:

- Assessment, Triage, and Discharge Planning
- Medical Care and Ethics
- Trauma, Environmental, and Toxicological Emergencies
- Systems: Respiratory, Cardiovascular, Musculoskeletal, Integumentary, Nervous, Endocrine, GI/GU
- Diseases: Infectious, Autoimmune, and Hematological
- Mental Health and Maltreatment

FEATURES:

- Comprehensive online geriatric content with 17 modules
- 15.25 CNE contact hours

GENE Level II explores why high-risk geriatric patients present with vague and atypical symptoms.

MODULE TOPICS:

- Falls
- Confusion
- Abdominal Pain
- Fatigue

FEATURES:

- Interactive online course and engaging online experience
- 3 CNE contact hours
- Introduces more advanced pathophysiology and critical thinking into the patient scenarios
- Incorporates the 4M's (mobility, mentation, medication, and what matters) of an age-friendly health system to improve patient communication and care